County solves bus issue

Creates transit district

By JUDY TAPLIN

In a move without precedent, the Madison County board Wednesday reluctantly voted to form a mass transit district—a district which will have the power to levy up to one-fourth of a cent in sales tax to save bus service in the county.

The new district will exist for a one-year trial period only, although county board members agreed they currently lack the power to disband the new mass transit board they had just created.

The county board acted because the state of Illinois has threatened to reduce by $6 million its subsidy to Bi-State Transit if some local funding isn't provided by Jan. 1, 1981.

In the same meeting, the board approved a new $35.3 million budget under which the county will operate for the Dec. 1 to Nov. 30 fiscal year.

The new budget is expected to hike the tax rate by about one cent and is estimated by county finance officials at 64.4 cents. The present rate is 63.4 cents.

Bi-State has announced drastic cutbacks in service if the subsidy is lost. Only three bus lines would remain in either Madison or St. Clair counties. A three-member mass transit board may be appointed today, when the county board meets to reorganize for the next two years. The transit board is to be composed of a mayor, a township supervisor and a county board member or his designate.

Its approving formation of a mass transit district, the Madison County board took the lead in preserving bus service in the metro-east area. St. Clair and Monroe counties have not tackled the problem but appear ready to do so in December.

The Madison County board made it clear that it was creating a mass transit district, not approving subsidization of Bi-State Transit, which the board members do not hold in high regard.

The resolution approved Wednesday requests that the state legislature terminate all subsidies to Bi-State beginning in 1981.

Madison County wants all transit subsidies from the state to go instead to the county mass transit district for districts in St. Clair and St. Louis counties follow suit.

Only for the period through Dec. 31, 1981, would the new transit tax be paid to support Bi-State's existing service if the county has its way.

The vote Wednesday was 20-6 and came after a prolonged discussion. Voting against a mass transit district and its accompanying tax were Frank Vivod, Collinsville; O. A. Weindel, Highland; James Heil, Godfrey; Jack Griffin, E. Alton; Herschel Beane, Godfrey; and Homer Henke, Moro.

Three county board members were absent for the vote. They were Dan Partney, Granite City; Louis Waisel, Nameoka; and Homer Boothman, State Park.

Vivod said he was concerned with the fact that the county has no way to get rid of its new transit board once it is approved. The new board can hire employees, rent and lease buildings and float bonds, he pointed out.

Fred Dalton, Collinsville, said he was voting for the mass transit district with extreme reluctance. But he said he did not believe Madison County should wait on St. Clair and Monroe counties to take the lead in saving bus service.

The county board had barely approved the new transit district when members began requesting that parts of their own districts be withdrawn from the plan.

The board voted to recommend to the General Assembly that the new state law allowing transit districts in the three counties be amended to allow areas to de-annex if they have no bus service.

Wanting out of the transit district are the sections of Bethalto in Wood River Township, all of Godfrey Township and the entire county board district represented by Griffin (District 13).

The county board imposed a number of duties on its new mass transit board. A study must be made in the one-year period independent of any Bi-State subsidies. Each new group will be asked to consider the feasibility of both a county-run transit system and service by a privately contracted bus company, among others.

IGC sets power firm rate hearing

A proposed rate hike for Illinois Power Co. is expected to meet strong opposition during a public hearing by the Illinois Commerce Commission Thursday at 7 p.m. in the county courthouse at Edwardsville.

IP is seeking a 25-percent increase in its electric rates, an overall increase of about $113 million. The rate increase request was submitted in August and the IGC has up to 11 months in which to rule on the request.

The proposed hike was the topic of a protest in front of the Edwardsville office of Illinois Power Wednesday, organized by the Illinois Public Interest Research Group, which is primarily funded by students from Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

Also participating were members of National Town Meeting and the Organizing Committee for Eastern Madison County.

They are distributing literature protesting the hike and contending that it could increase residential electric bills $10 per month, or as much as $150 per year. It also contends that IP is planning an even larger request in 1981, a hike of 30 percent.

The literature blames IP for passing on the cost overruns from the Clinton nuclear power plant to the consumers.

"Consumers take the risks, IP takes the profits," the literature contends. Half of the proposed rate increase is targeted for financing construction of the Clinton plant, according to the literature.

Also being protested is the practice of charging small users roughly twice as much per unit of electricity as is charged by large industrial users. A different rate structure could save each homeowner approximately $150 per year, according to the literature.

It contends that the company charged its customers in 1979 for $48 million in taxes, when, in fact, it paid no taxes and received a $1 million refund.

Also protested in the literature are the automatic fuel adjustment clause, which allows IP to pass on any increases in fuel to the customers, and the proposed facilities charge increase, to reimburse IP for the cost of meters and distribution.

A large public turnout is being requested for the meeting, according to Monica MacDonald, a spokesman for National Town Meeting, who feels that at least half of the proposed increase could be cut by the Commerce Commission, if strong public opposition is shown.

Lia Lynn Salem to compete in Illinois Junior Miss Pageant

By VALERIE EYDEN

Lia Lynn Salem, Granite City's own Junior Miss, is in Bollingbrook today, preparing to compete Saturday and Sunday, Dec. 6 and Dec. 7, in the Illinois Junior Miss State Pageant.

The pageant will take place in the Naperville North High School auditorium in Naperville, Ill., just a short distance from Bollingbrook where the contestants are staying at the homes of area families.

Lia departed yesterday for the contest, accompanied by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Terry (Marge) Salem.

She will be joined later this week by Shaerold Yount, who directed the Junior Miss Program in Granite City.

Granite City's Junior Miss was honored Sunday at a Mayor's Luncheon, together with 24 finalists from throughout Illinois.

During this week, she is planning to participate in a Simplicity sewing contest and a makeup contest, among other activities.

In addition, the girls will be interviewed, photographed and rehearsed for the weekend extravaganza.

Lia won the Granite City Junior Miss title Sunday, Oct. 12, in Memorial Auditorium at Granite City High School South. She was among 21 senior girls competing for the honor.

The young woman also attained four of six awards presented to the contestants in various segments of the pageant.

Santa arrives; at 2 locations

By MICK STRANGE

of the Press-Record
Santa Claus arrived in the Quad-Cities Friday morning along with five of his elves.

It was reported that he left his reindeer at the North Pole to help with last minute preparations for his famous Dec. 24 journey.

Santa was met in Venice and rode in a parade through Venice, Madison and Granite City.

He was chauffeured by Andy Economy in a prize winning antique Ford auto and under police escort in each city.

Santa's arrival was arranged by the Associated Retailers and Civic Association, Inc., and the Credit Bureau of the Tri-Cities.

Santa will be available at two locations this year.

Santa's cabin will be located again this year in the Crossroads Plaza Shopping Center in the 3700 block of Nameoki Road.

He will be helped at the cabin by members of Explorer Post 10-33 under the direction of Officer Friendly Fred Hoffman.

Santa is available for pictures and to listen to children's Christmas wishes from 5 p.m. until 9 p.m. Monday through Friday, from 12 noon until 8 p.m. on Saturdays and from 12 noon until 4 p.m. on Sundays, according to his "elf" helpers.

Santa will also have a workshop at St. Joseph's Convent, 2116 Edison Ave., beginning today through Sunday Dec. 23.

Santa's Workshop features a visit with Santa available with pictures, a personal treat for each visiting child, Christmas decorated rooms, free movie and a gift shop.

Admission to the workshop is $1 per person (adult free when accompanied with child).

Hours will be Monday through Friday 4:30 p.m. until 8 p.m.; Saturday 1 p.m. until 8 p.m.; and Sunday 12 noon until 5 p.m.

Proceeds from Santa's Workshop will benefit Scouts of Troop 7 and Pack 7 of St. Joseph's Catholic Church.

All three people observed Davis at the St. Elizabeth Medical Center in Granite City, where he was brought following the accident on State Aid 38.

"I feel the evidence was cumulative," said Assistant State's Attorney Keith Jensen, who prosecuted the case. "No one of them was a make-or-break situation."

Jensen had been expected to have a tough time proving Davis, 51, of the Holiday Mobile Home Court, was intoxicated at the time of the accident. Evidence indicating Davis was drunk had to be thrown out by Mosele because of a state law which does not permit the introduction of blood test results into court proceedings without a defendant's consent.

"A lot of people came forward to testify," Jensen said. "Apparently, their memories were impressed with the extreme state (of intoxication) the man was in."

Spurgeon was the last witness to be called by the prosecution, and was probably the most credible. Mosele, who decided the case himself because Davis waived a jury trial, said in giving the verdict that he relied on Spurgeon's testimony because of the doctor's training and experience as an emergency room physician.

"There is no question the doctor's testimony was invaluable," Jensen said.

Spurgeon's testimony did not help the arguments defense attorney John Gilchiff was trying to get across.

Gilchiff had tried to show that the smell of alcohol could have been caused by whiskey on Davis' clothing put there by a broken bottle found in Davis' car. He also tried to show that Davis' behavior could have been a result of the injuries he was suffering.

Spurgeon was certain the smell was emanating from Davis' mouth. "The odor of alcohol in his mouth was extremely strong," the doctor said, "enough so it would gag you."

The testimony of Pilat and Bringer Tuesday was along the same lines. Bringer's credibility was boosted by the fact he formerly was a counselor at a detoxification unit.

The testimony of a second security guard, Mike Waddell, was thrown out by Mosele because Waddell had only

24 DAYS TILL CHRISTMAS, but Santa has already visited the Quad-City area. Here he talks to children at Third Street and Madison Avenue, one of several stops he made Friday morning during a parade beginning at the Venice City Hall and winding up at the Crossroads Shopping Center where his cabin will be located until Christmas. A professional photographer will be on duty for those parents wishing to have their children's photo taken with Santa. Explorer Post 10-33, sponsored by the Granite City Police Department, will again sponsor Santa's cabin as in previous years.

Retailers concerned about shoplifting

"Retailers have long been concerned about the number of juveniles involved in stealing from stores. Today they have a new concern: the attitude young and old alike have toward shoplifting," said Hugh E. Muncy, president, Illinois Retail Merchants Association. Discussing the Association's annual retail theft prevention program, Everything Has A Price, Muncy stated that in recent years this crime, theft from stores, has become socially accepted by some groups. Purpose of the campaign is to inform the public that stealing from stores is a crime that has far reaching consequences. Concern for the social and economic consequences of permissive stealing from stores and attitude of consumers is not confined to merchants. Governor Thompson declared Everything Has A Price Week, a period for citizen recognition of the impact this crime has on our daily lives. Members of Congress, the Eighty-First Illinois General Assembly, leaders in education, law enforcement agencies, local governments, business organizations, parent, youth and civic groups all across the state have joined retailers in a broad program of public education. Illinois Congresswomen Cardiss Collins (7th Dist.) is concerned about the effect shoplifting has on the quality of life. Frank Annunzio, Congressman from the 11th District, has pointed out, "Too many people look at shoplifting as a juvenile prank or some type of nickel and dime crime. In truth, it affects the pocketbook of everyone." Losses due to retail theft amount to nearly $9 billion nationally, $700 million in Illinois. Consumers have a stake in retail theft prevention. When somebody steals, everybody pays—in higher prices, increased cost of insurance and law enforcement... and even in job opportunities. "An ever-increasing social disease" is the way the Illinois General Assembly refers to shoplifting in a joint resolution passed by the House and Senate this week. Over four million individuals are apprehended for stealing from stores each year. Retail security specialists feel this is just the tip of the iceberg.

Angeline Caruso, interim general superintendent of schools, Chicago, calls retail theft a social evil that requires concerted effort of every segment of the community to educate the public to this problem. Educate youngsters to the seriousness of shoplifting stressed Donald C. Gill, state superintendent of education. "Too often lives can be ruined or seriously damaged by one unfortunate incident for which the consequences are unknown." Shoplifting is a community problem, IRMA invites full participation in the war to reduce theft from stores. Citizens are requested to act in theft prevention by reporting suspected thieves and suspicious customer and employee activities to store management, by informing young people of the seriousness of this crime, and by becoming familiar with the law.

Alleges man throws rock

William L. Koski, 30, of Hamel was arrested at Maryville Road and Route 162 last week and charged with criminal damage to property.

Koski allegedly threw a rock through the storm glass and inside window at the home of Bert Houston, 2432 Wilson Ave., with the homeowner seeing a vehicle leave the scene a moment after the incident occurred.

Police were notified and a description of the vehicle was given. Koski, who allegedly was known to the victim from his place of employment, was arrested while waiting for a train to clear the crossing on Route 162.

Issue of preserving jail delayed again

By JULIUS TAPLIN

The Madison County board has again delayed the signing of a contract with the Goshen Preservation Alliance for restoration of the old county jail in Edwardsville.

At its meeting Wednesday, the board in fact decided to seek a legal opinion from its new state's attorney, Don Weber, on whether the county can legally lease property.

Earl Picklesimer, a member of the Alliance and vice-chairman of the Edwardsville Historical Preservation Commission, said Friday, "We probably gained more time for negotiations," he said.

The Madison County board members have been sharply divided over the issue of the jail's preservation. One contingent believes the old structure should be torn down; it questions the historic value of the jail and fears that preservation would saddle county taxpayers with the cost of the building's maintenance for years to come.

It was by a narrow 12-10 margin in July that the county board voted to lease the jail to Goshen for a three-year period at $1 a year, with the jail to be returned to the county at the end of that time.

The July vote has been sharply criticized by several members of the county board buildings committee who were absent at that meeting and who are opposed to the jail's preservation.

They had planned to bring the issue to a vote by the board in August. But Tony Bosich, a fifth member of the committee, took advantage of their absence and managed to get the measure approved.

A contract with the preservationists was then written, but to date has not received county board approval. In August, Madison County Assistant State's Attorney Don Smith had not had time to prepare the document. Neither was the contract acted on in September or October.

When the resolution was presented at Wednesday's board meeting, buildings committee member James Heil, Godfrey (one of the four absent in July), asked that it be tabled.

"I question whether the county can lease property for less than fair market value, and also whether we have the right to lease property, period," Heil said.

He said he had asked the state's attorney's office for a legal opinion on this, but has not received one. Heil said Weber who takes office today has promised to issue such an opinion.

A voice vote was taken on Heil's motion to table the contract. Although it appeared that the votes against tabling won, County Board Chairman Nelson Hagnauer of Granite City ruled the other way, and no one challenged by asking for a roll call.

Picklesimer told The Herald he is confident that the county can legally lease its own property. It was the state's attorney's office which wrote one version of the yet unsigned contract, he noted, so it would appear that the matter of legality has already been settled.

Picklesimer said it is not surprising that the county board wished to delay action until a new administration took office Dec. 1.

He said the contract submitted to the county board Wednesday was a counter-proposal from Goshen.

New investigative team formed to fight arson

By EDGURNEY

A special team has been formed to fight the crime of arson in Madison County.

The arson response unit, organized by volunteer investigators, will function with the cooperation of the Madison County Sheriff's Department.

Organizers hope its existence will help deter the crime of arson, which is a difficult one to prove. The arson that does occur should be better investigated and prosecuted.

Bill Shewmaker, assistant chief of the East Allen Fire Department, will coordinate the unit's efforts.

Other members of the unit are Ron Bell, arson investigator for the State Park Fire Department; Doug Brown, arson investigator for the Maryville Volunteer Fire Department and Dave Crockerall, Madison County sheriff's deputy.

Fire departments and cities will enlist the expertise of the team by calling the sheriff's department. Shewmaker, Bell or Brown will respond, and Crockerall will join them, unless his work with the sheriff's department prevents it.

"Our function is to determine the cause and origin of the fire," Brown said. "Dave's function is to collect evidence and assist in any other law enforcement function at the scene, as needed."

Crockerall may also assist in the follow-up investigation, helped, if needed, by sheriff's detectives.

Brown said the unit is modeled after one in St. Clair County. That unit was able to obtain a federal grant to buy a specially-equipped van.

Attempts at securing similar funding for a Madison County unit were unsuccessful. During the past six months, the men have set about establishing the unit without grant funds.

The Madison County chapter of the Southern Illinois Arson Investigators Association contributed $400 to help purchase needed equipment.

The sheriff's department is cooperating by adjusting Crockerall's work schedule to make him more available for the arson unit, and by providing a station wagon for him to use as his regular patrol vehicle. The unit's equipment will be kept in that vehicle.

Brown explained that some departments, especially those in rural areas, don't have the money or the need to establish their own investigative unit. "We provide a task force to come in and assist them," Brown said. "We're under the control of the local chief."

Brown said Keith Jensen of the state's attorney's office has pledged his cooperation too. Brown said Jensen has volunteered to come to the scene of a suspected arson (or send another assistant, if possible) to help make sure evidence is gathered properly for prosecution.

"He gets to see the case from the ground floor," Brown said. "The unit will represent only a continuation of the efforts of Bell and Brown."

"Ron and I have been responding for four years to departments around here, anyway," Brown said. Crockerall came to a meeting of the Madison County arson investigators group to seek training. "I just decided I wanted to specialize," said Crockerall, a former Collinsville policeman.

Crockerall has undergone training, and has responded to suspected cases of arson the past few months.

"I think just the publicity alone from this thing will knock down the threat of arson," Crockerall said.

Brown agrees and thinks the publicity will educate some potential arsonists. "Most people don't think they're breaking the law," Brown said. They think they're merely beating their insurance company, he said.

Brown said public awareness of the arson response unit he helped organize in Cahokia in 1972 resulted in a reduction of arson in that city.

Major Fred Bright of the Madison County Sheriff's Department said Sheriff Emil Toff is doing all he can for the unit without providing financial assistance at this time.

Bright said he actually expects to see a statistical increase in arson cases for the first year, because he thinks this unit will identify arson cases that would not have been identified before. Later, he expects to see a reduction in arson cases and more successful prosecution.

Friends of Madison Museum to host coffee

Friends of the Madison County Historical Museum will be hostesses for a Christmas coffee Wednesday morning, Dec. 10, from 10 to 11:30 a.m. at the museum. All interested persons are most welcome.

The museum, located at 715 North Main St., Edwardsville, is decorated for the holiday season by the Edwardsville Garden Club and members of the museum staff.

During the year the museum is open for browsing, tours, genealogy research and viewing of historical articles: Wednesday, Thursday and Friday from 9 a.m. until 4 p.m., and Sunday from 2 to 5 p.m. Group tours must be pre-arranged. Exhibits are changed seasonally. There is no admission charge. Volunteers are needed to help in the museum. Information about the museum may be secured by calling 1-656-7562.

Article by Sgt. Selph published in state magazine

By VALERIE EVENEDEN
of the Press-Record

Granite City Police Sergeant Ron Selph is the author of an article published in the October issue of the Illinois Police Association Official Journal.

Entitled "Juvenile Procedures," the article deals primarily with the correct handling of juveniles who come into contact with law enforcement officers. Sgt. Selph's presentation notes that "a great deal of a police officer's responsibility revolves around the juvenile, and, while most of the contact is in connection with a crime, there are additional types of social problems associated with juveniles, such as abandonment, abuse and neglect, which is to the officer's responsibility." He also notes, "Nationally, statistics show that juveniles arrested for violent crimes have increased 283 percent since 1970; more than twice the increase noted among adults committing similar crimes, the officer writes.

"Recent FBI figures show that juveniles, 17 years old and under, accounted for 32 percent of all arrests for robbery, 17 percent of all rapes, 10 percent of all murders committed and 16 percent of assaults. "Fifty-three percent of motor vehicle thefts are by juveniles, 52 percent of all burglaries and 43 percent of all larcenies or thefts," Sgt. Selph states in his article. Key points to remember when arresting or interrogating a juvenile are described by the officer, as well as methods of disposition of various cases.

His written thesis originally was submitted to the Southwestern Law Enforcement Commission as part of the Mobile Team In-Service Training program.

Although similar training papers on a variety of subjects have been written by other officers from police departments in a seven-county region, according to Granite City Police Chief Ronald J. Veizer, the article submitted by Sgt. Selph is the first to be published in the widely-circulated official journal of the Illinois Police Association. The Granite City officer previously co-authored a training thesis on "The Patrol Officer's Responsibility Concerning Juveniles," in cooperation with Deputy Greg Orment of the St. Clair County Sheriff's Office.

The training series came into being, it was learned, through a suggestion by Chief Veizer, who is a member of the Southwestern Law Enforcement Commission board of governors.

Among the subjects covered in the series to date are:

"Homicide Investigation" by the Department of Law Enforcement, District 11; "Drug Update" by a MEGSI officer; "Rape and Sexual Assault," written by a sergeant in the Madison County Sheriff's Office. "Vehicle Stop and Occupant Control" by a Highland police officer, and "The Use of Force By Police Officers," written by a member of the Cahokia Police Department.

Sgt. Selph has been a member of the Granite City Police Department for 9½ years.

He earned a bachelor's degree in the administration of justice from McKendree College, Lebanon, in 1974 and received an associate's degree in applied science (law enforcement) from Belleville Area College in 1975.

As a member of the local police department, Sgt. Selph served as juvenile officer in 1974 and has received several letters of commendation during his career. He was promoted to his present rank in September 1977.

Mrs. Voegelé to run for assessor

Circulation of petitions is being started today on behalf of Mrs. Shirley Voegelé, who will be an independent candidate for the office of Granite City Township assessor.

Until this fall, Mrs. Voegelé served on the staff of the Granite City assessor for a consecutive period of more than 15 years.

Her most recent title was that of chief administrator of the assessor's office. Previously, she was chief deputy assessor.

Mrs. Voegelé in the spring 1980 election will oppose incumbent Assessor Von Dee Cruise.

Her campaign manager will be Alderman Paul Fisk. The campaign will not be a part of any multiple-candidate ticket, the candidate and manager said today.

Mrs. Voegelé resides at 3168 Aubrey Ave. with her husband, Marcus "Bud" Voegelé, and their family. He is a law-tire employee of Consolidated Aluminum Corp., Madison, and also worked for the previous tenant of that plant, Dow Chemical Co.

They have one daughter, Mrs. Gary Karen Smith of Fairview Heights. Their two sons, all living in Granite City, are Marcus Voegelé III, who is married to the former Kathy Jones, Michael Anthony Voegelé, who is married to the former Joni Jean Harvey; and Robert Voegelé and Ronald Voegelé, both residing with their parents.

Mr. and Mrs. Michael Voegelé have a daughter, Michelle Ann. The Voegelé family is active in St. Margaret Mary Church.

During the campaign, the veteran administrator will cite her experience in all phases and duties of the assessor's office. She describes her dismissal from the staff as being the assessor's reaction to her decision to be a candidate.

Her objective if elected will be to serve "for the people." She comments, "I will not be obligated to any individual or company, and will emphasize fair and impartial procedures."

Mrs. Voegelé says that another major goal will be to increase public understanding and knowledge of laws, property records and regulations affecting taxation and assessment. She adds, "More awareness of what the office does—and why—can lead to a much better public perception of government and governmental costs."

"I plan to conduct the office in such a way that the people get all the information that possibly can be made available to them."

County solves

spelling out service cuts, and public outcry at the prospect of reduced bus service are seen as reasons for the change of heart.

County board chairman Nelson Hagauer summed it up Wednesday. "If I thought the state of Illinois was bluffing, I'd wait. But I feel bus service will be cut," he told the board.

Heil, Godfrey, reported that a meeting last week of the legislative committees from Madison, St. Clair and Monroe counties reaches the following consensus:

—The three counties need mass transit.

—The present state law needs to be changed to allow counties a broader control over mass transit districts.

—There are numerous grievances against Bi-State's service in all three counties.

—A three-county district rather than three one-county mass transit districts is needed for more clout with both Bi-State and the legislature.

—The districts should be a year-long experiment only.

—The public should have a say, through a referendum.

—Legislation is needed to allow areas without bus service to de-annex.

Davis convicted

Gitchoff argued that the doctor and nurse's opinions on Davis' intoxication should be stricken because Jensen failed to follow the rules of discovery. Jensen said case law supports his actions, and he is confident they would not cause a reversal in the appellate court.

Gitchoff said he thinks he also raised enough doubt about the prosecution's argument that the accident happened in the eastbound lane, meaning Davis was in the wrong lane.

The judge's situation provided for an interesting sidelight to the trial.

It was the last trial for the circuit's chief criminal judge before he left office. He lost his bid to be retained in the Nov. 4 election.

Those seeking his ouster argued Mosele was soft on criminals.

Mosele won't be around to sentence Davis, unless the judge has his request granted and is reappointed by the Illinois Supreme Court.

Biblical artifacts to be displayed

A display of biblical artifacts thousands of years old will take place on Dec. 3 at 1 p.m. at the Mitchell United Presbyterian Church.

The display includes a 3000-year-old cup of the Early Bronze Age, the head of a fertility goddess, a half-dozen oil lamps, an ox goad, a limestone cosmetic mortar, an inscribed jar handle and several impressive pieces of pottery. A collection of arrowheads, slingstones, clothing pins, needle, cosmetic spatula, and pieces of jewelry will also be displayed.

The artifacts are from the excavation of Tell en-Nasbeh ("Mound of the Pillar"). This is believed to be the biblical Mizpah of Benjamin, located about eight miles north of Jerusalem. From 1926 to 1935 Dr. William F. Bade, professor of Old Testament at the Pacific School of Religion in Berkeley, Calif., directed the excavation of Tell en-Nasbeh. The exhibit, on loan to the Mitchell church from the Bade Institute of Biblical Archaeology, is accompanied by a slide presentation which discusses the excavation process and relates Dr. Bade's discoveries to the Old Testament documents.

The program is to be of interest to all age groups. Children who attend will be given a comic book entitled "The Secret of a Tell" which describes in a simple way how archaeologists are able to reconstruct history through careful research.

On Monday morning, Dec.

1, members of the Quad-Cities Ministerial Association, who will be meeting for lunch at the church, will have an opportunity to view and discuss the artifacts.

The Wednesday evening display, which is open to the public, will take place at 7 p.m., following a congregational meal at 6 p.m. in the church's fellowship hall.

The church, located at the corner of E. Chain of Rocks Road and Greenway Drive in Mitchell, gathers for worship each Sunday at 11 a.m.

Kayhawks speed from Granite South

By PETE HAYES

Sports Editor of the Press-Record
MOUNT VERNON — Don Detering knew this season could be a long one before it started. And after watching his Granite City South basketball squad takes its third straight thumping in the Mount Vernon Turkey Classic here Saturday night at the hands of speedy Kankakee Westview, his suspicions were confirmed. But he wasn't singing the blues.

"We may take our lumps, but this season's going to be interesting," he said in the locker room. "If the guys play like they did tonight, I'll have no complaint."

Play hard the Warriors did. Both Saturday afternoon against powerhouse East St. Louis Lincoln and again Saturday night against Westview. But they were simply outmanned both times. Despite watching his team's record fall to 6-3, Detering was encouraged. "We made progress during each game," he said. "Friday (against Mount Vernon) we stuck up the place. But this afternoon we made progress and gave Lincoln a hell of a game. And tonight, I thought we played hard at times. If we'd have played against Mount Vernon the way we played tonight, I'm not saying we would have beaten them, but we would have given them a good half game."

Saturday night, South and Kankakee Westview battled basket to basket for three and a half minutes of the game. But then the tide started to run against the Warriors slowly but surely. A turnover here, a missed layup there, a rebound that went to the Kayhawks. It all started to add up. South trailed by four at the end of the first quarter, 18-14. But by the end of the first half, that gap had increased to ten points, 38-28. "They (Kankakee) are probably a quick team as we're going to see all season," said Detering. "I can't think of any team, except for Madison, that might come close to their speed in our schedule. But I think this team tonight had a little more strength."

Speed, lightning-quick speed, Westview had it and used it. As the course of the game went on, the Kayhawks got behind South for easy layups more often. "I think we (South) were fatigued after this afternoon's game," said Detering. "We gave it all we had (against Lincoln). And this team (Westview) is quicker than Lincoln. There was no way we were going to be able to run with them. We had to shoot well."

South did shoot better

Cardinals put it together—at last

Special to the Press-Record

EAST RUTHERFORD — It was a long time coming. A REAL long time. And, as usual, there was ample opportunity for it not to happen. But it did. The St. Louis Football Cardinals won the Big Red finally managed to play an entire game here yesterday and emerged with a 23-7 victory over Eastern Division rival New York and gained revenge in the process. Many of the faces involved in the Cardinal win were different from the season opening 41-35 loss to the Giants at Busch Stadium. Tom Banks is gone. Steve Little is gone. Others out with injuries. But the people most responsible for the victory were the same as they've been in the three other Cardinal wins. Jim Hart, Mel Gray, Pat Tilley, Neil O'Donoghue. And of course, Otis Anderson. Anderson rushed with the ball 31 times Sunday for an amazing 167 yards, including two touchdowns. He set up an O'Donoghue field goal with a 52-yard romp down to the Giants' four-yard line. He did it all. In the first half, he passed the 1,000 yard mark for the second straight season. He now had 1,127 yards for the season.

Big Red head coach Jim Hamilton was a relieved man as he spoke in the locker room after the game. "I think it's most obvious thing is that we didn't allow New York (the big plays that would in the first game against Giants). We had the same defensive coverage of the Giant receivers (that we did in the first game against them, but we were) more disciplined. We also doubled up on the deep-out patterns. O'Donoghue came through with flying colors. The Cardinal place kickers were three-for-three in field goals and two-for-two on extra points. He made good on field goal attempts of 43, 41 and 23 yards.

But there was a time when all the St. Louis domination appeared to be on its way out the window, just as it has the last four games when the Cards have blown late leads to lose the game. It came with 12:20 remaining in the game when New York's Larry Heater scooted in from 10 yards out to make the score 13-7. Here we go again. Good game, bad ending. But not this time.

"I was mad," said Hart. "I was mad because of what people back home in St. Louis were thinking. They were saying, 'Here we go again.' I said, 'No, we're not.' I walked up and down the sidelines and told everybody that we weren't going to do it again." They didn't. And they now have a 4-9 record instead of 3-10. The loss dropped New York into a last place tie with Washington, which lost 10-7 to Atlanta yesterday.

ERIC WALTEBERGER of Granite City South (32) puts up a shot Saturday night against Kankakee Westview in the third round of the Mount Vernon Turkey Classic in Mount Vernon's Vernois Gym. Walteberger was a bright spot in a bleak tournament performance for South.

Bills whip SMU

ST. LOUIS — St. Louis University's soccer Billikens romped to a 3-1 victory here yesterday in the championship game of the NCAA Division I Midwest Regional playoffs at Lindenwood College.

St. Louis' John Hayes scored all three goals the Billikens needed in order to advance to a showdown with San Francisco next week in the NCAA quarterfinals. San Francisco beat surprising UCLA 2-1 Sunday in overtime in the NCAA Far West Regional championship game.

On the AstroTurf field at Lindenwood Sunday, it was all St. Louis University. Even though the Bills clearly dominated the game, it wasn't until Hayes scored his third goal of the game that the anxious moments were over. The Billikens outshot SMU's Mustangs 15-9.

St. Louis U's Steve Sullivan, the team leader, played only about half the game because of a bad ankle. But Hayes stepped into the spotlight. He scored his first goal of the game with 18:36 remaining in the first half when he headed in a free kick from teammate Mark Frederickson making it 1-0.

Hayes' second goal was nearly poetry. He took the ball in on the SMU goal all along from about midfield. He left two Mustang defenders stranded at midfield and was met by two more just outside the penalty area. But he stopped abruptly and let them run right by him. Then he changed his direction and sent the ball into the goal. Randy Phillips (an All-America selection) all to himself. He scored with 5:30 remaining in the first half.

Devils narrow gap but lose

By TOM SCHOCKER

EAST ST. LOUIS — Cutting down the margin of difference was at least one accomplishment for the Venice Red Devils over the holiday weekend. Losing by 19 Thursday and 14 Friday, the Red Devils brought that figure down to just four Saturday. A noticeable improvement, but they still remain winless. Participating in the East St. Louis Thanksgiving Round-Robin Basketball Tournament, Venice had hoped to rebound from two earlier defeats (See related stories). Even with a couple of golden chances to win the game in the waning moments, the Red Devils dropped the final contest of the tourney to the Lovejoy Wildcats 65-61.

Down by 14 points at the intermission, Venice came out like gang-busters to begin play. Kenneth Walker, taking only two shots in the first half, felt the hot hand and poured in nine third quarter points.

Cutting the Wildcat lead in half, the Red Devils pressured the Lovejoy ball handlers into eight fourth quarter turnovers. It was just enough to get them back in the game. "We finally used the press for maximum pressure," said Venice head coach Ken Perkins. "We started thinking, but it didn't get done until the second half."

Still down by 11, at 60-54, Venice reeled off seven unanswered layups. But three shot attempts in the final minute of play could not convert the Red Devil margin of difference into a win. "They (Venice) should be a good shooting team, but it hasn't shown up so far," said Perkins. "They just don't work at it hard enough. They are so young and they want to do it there own way."

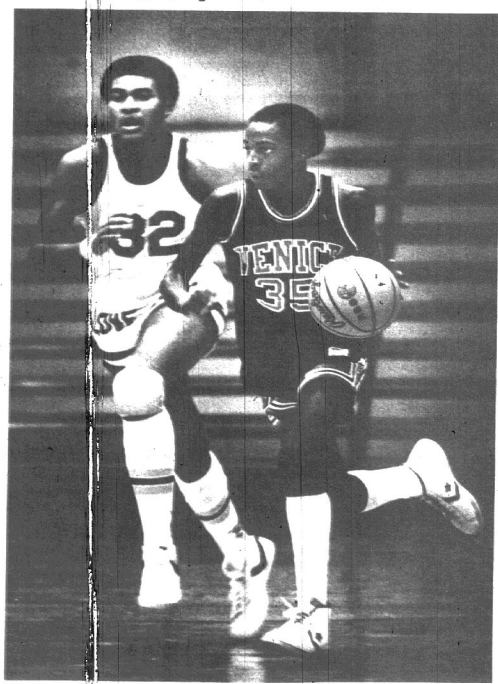

Doing it their own way cost the Red Devils. They shot a mere 37 percent from the floor for the game and missed 11 attempts in the final stanza. In addition, they only converted 11 points from the free throw line in 23 tries. "We haven't executed on the line," said Perkins. "That's what has cost us in the three ball games so far."

Venice had come into this game having lost to Chicago Dunbar and East St. Louis earlier in the tournament. The game with Lovejoy would set up the most even contest for the Red Devils.

Lovejoy had also lost to Dunbar and the Flyers. Its beatings were more renowned as the Wildcats were dumped by 36 and 25 points respectively. As it was, the game turned out to be close, but if you had watched just the first half, you would have seen a much different ballgame.

Against their first two opponents, the Red Devils were faced with the enormous task of handling a front line that averaged six foot seven in height. They were not spared when they were sent up against a six foot ten center and a six foot six forward from Lovejoy. The obvious disadvantage in height played its part in the first 16 minutes of the contest.

"We didn't play anywhere in the first half," said Perkins. "Anyone can score 23 points." The Wildcats used the inside game to the fullest and ran away from Venice. Lovejoy out-rebounded the Red Devils 28-15 in DRIVING DEVIL Venice's Kenneth Walker (35) drives against Lovejoy's Calvin Wellmaker Saturday night in the East St. Louis Thanksgiving Tournament. Despite a strong performance, the Red Devils lost to Lovejoy by four and finished the round-robin tourney with an 0-3 record.

Steamers remain unbeaten with win

By PETE HAYES

Sports Editor of the Press-Record

ST. LOUIS — To say the St. Louis Steamers newcomers to the squad are making a distinct contribution could be the understatement of the year. After the Steamers' 8-7 victory over Cleveland last night at the Checkerdome, most of the 14,400 fans who witnessed were wondering how they ever got along without them.

The Steamers ran their Major Indoor Soccer League record to 4-0 with the victory over the Force. But they could never put them away — not until the final buzzer. St. Louis got a three-goal hat trick from former SIU-Edwardsville Cougar All-American Don Ebert (his second of the season). Ebert's a rookie. The Steamers also got goals from newcomers Denny Vaninger and John Stremelau on their way to becoming the only unbeaten team in the MISL. "We really needed this one," said Steamer coach Pat McBride. "We've got three games coming up on the road."

Cleveland, which dropped from second to third place in the Atlantic Division behind the Steamers and 3-3 Buffalo, had plenty of chances to give up. But it didn't. Twice the Force trailed by two goals and once by as many as three, 7-4. But back they came each time.

Steamer standout Carl Rose didn't think, however, that Cleveland was really that good. Instead, he felt it was more a case of St. Louis letting up. "We had them," he said. "They're not that good of a team. We just made 'em look good." The game-clinching goal was scored by Emilio Romero, who also scored the fourth goal in the Steamers'

4-2 victory at Philadelphia Friday night. It came, just three minutes into the fourth quarter and gave St. Louis an 8-6 lead.

Vaninger got the scoring started for the Steamers when he blasted one past Cleveland goalie Cliff Brown a little over five minutes into the game. Then Ebert scored his first goal on an unassisted play at the 7:04 mark to give St. Louis a 2-0 lead. Then Ebert again after a Force goal, Tony Bellinger scored for St. Louis at the 14:02 mark to make it 4-2 at the end of the first quarter.

Cleveland scored twice in the second quarter and the Steamers countered with a goal by Ebert making it 5-4 at halftime.

"I thought they (Cleveland) would fold," said Ebert. "About four times they could have called it quits."

Vaninger named MISL 'Star of the Week'

Although the New York Arrows now hold the MISL consecutive win streak mark — 15 straight — and sit atop the Atlantic Division with 14-0 mark, the competition in the League's third season has been ultra-keen. Over one-half (53 percent) of the early season matches have been decided by the slimmest of margins, a single goal.

And much of the drama has come in sudden-death overtime. Last season 12 (of 160) games journeyed into extra time. After only 19 games (of 240) of the 1980-81 season, eight contests have tied at the conclusion of regulation.

All five Hartford games have ended with a one-goal differential (four in OT) while the latest MISL expansion club, Chicago, has dropped both its games in heart-breaking overtime fashion. The unknown and underdog Horizons surprised everyone except Coach Luis Dabo — by leading New York for 33 minutes in its debut before Steve Augul tied it and Luis Alberto won it for the Arrows in overtime.

MISL Star Selection of the Week — Denny Vaninger, St. Louis. Returning home to St. Louis has been a great thrill for more than a dozen St. Louisans, but none greater than Denny Vaninger, who ran through the steamers for the first time last week and brought the ninth straight MISL crowd to its feet three times with a hat trick. Also assisting on a Greg Makowski goal, Vaninger delighted new Steamers owners Stan Musial and Joe Garagiola with his offense on the way to St. Louis' season-opening 6-3 mashing of Baltimore. Joining other St. Louis newcomers Greg Villa and Don Ebert on Coach Pat McBride's imposing "big" front line, Vaninger punched home the first goal of a later victory over Denver, to keep the steamers perfect this young season.

Steelers lose opener to Wood River 91-45

By TOM SCHOCKER
of the Press-Record
GRANITE CITY

Before Granite North's basketball season home opener against Wood River Friday, Steeler head coach Bill Ohlendorf stood quietly against the bleachers and watched the Junior Varsity hold on to a victory. He could only hope that his game would turn out with similar results. You can't have everything, though.

Out-matched and out-sized North did what it could for a quarter and a half. But, now the Steelers will have to look back at their 91-45 loss to the Oilers and truly believe that there were two different teams on the court. A teacher and a student and North was given a good lesson.

The entire game boiled down to one thing. Even though it was also the first game for Wood River, the Oilers possessed the experience and seasoned veterans. Something North will have to develop as the year goes on.

Wood River put its talents to full use and utilized its six foot, six inch senior center, Dan Codington. It was one player North couldn't stop. When asked whether Codington was the key to the Steelers loss, Ohlendorf could only reply, "Big in so many words."

Because, it was Codington that did so many things. The virtual giant, among the small Steelers, used his size to roll up a game high 32 points and perfectly control the boards, snatching 18 rebounds. North had to be relieved when he got off to a slow start. It was then the Steelers still had a chance.

North led just twice in the contest. Harold Rody sank the first basket of the 4th season to give the Steelers a 2-0 lead. He again put them on top at 42-13 at the half. It was a big key to the Steelers to maintain an advantage. Wood River reeled off 13 unanswered points before the first period drew to an end. North was still in the game, though. But Codington went to work on the boards and the Oilers started to bomb from the outside. Wood River's touch was outstanding as the Oilers hit at a 57 percent clip, from the floor. Their eye from the free throw line wasn't bad, either, as they missed just eight tosses for a 72 percent on 21 for 29.

"We didn't do a bad job playing defense early in the game," said Ohlendorf. "We still had a shot in the second quarter, but they (North) got frustrated and there was a total brake down of everything we tried to do."

The loss of control showed up in North's final turnover count and shooting percentage. Realizing the inside game was fruitless with the massive Codington taking up space, the Steelers were forced to put it up from the outside. That, like the rest of their game plan, didn't work out well.

North managed only 39 percent from the floor and even more distressing was a lowly 46 percent from the charity stripe, connecting on 10 of 22.

"We knew we would have a problem scoring," said Ohlendorf. "Our execution was not that well. We just couldn't make the transition from full court to half court offense."

This resulted in a sizeable turnover difference. North fumbled the ball 26 times compared to 16 for the Oilers. "All the questions you are asking can only be answered by our inexperience," said Ohlendorf. "They (North) will have to learn. It's a shame they had to learn it against such a good team like Wood River."

The Steelers even tried to throw a press at Wood River. However, the Oilers handled that with ease, also, as the opening minutes of the third stanza proved. Codington was unstoppable, again.

He cashed in his and the teams first five buckets.

In fact, he only missed one shot in the third quarter when Wood River widened the gap, out-scoring North 30-15.

"We tried to apply pressure and we did early," said Ohlendorf, "but we couldn't keep it up." On the other hand, it was Wood River's handling of the press that turned the game around. "If I could point out one thing that was a key in the game, it would have to be our handling of the pressure," said Oiler head coach Darrell Bird. "Making them turn the ball over was another important key. This could be the best defensive team that has ever been here at Wood River."

The North scorers can testify to that fact. The Oilers allowed two Steeler players in reaching double figures. Rody had 14 points followed by Carl Luehmann at 12. Mike Sullivan was next closest as he scored all eight of his tallies in the final quarter.

There was also a noticeable difference in the rebounding category. Wood River accounted for 40 caroms while North could pull only 20. "I don't know any better way of learning, than by going out and taking the licks," said Ohlendorf. "I just hope they keep a positive attitude."

ISU wrestlers prepare for season

NORMAL—Illinois State University wrestling coach George Girardi can count on something this season that he couldn't depend on a year ago—depth.

Even though the Redbirds finished with a 17-6 dual record, the 1979-80 ISU wrestlers lacked the numbers it takes to overcome the injuries. This year, Girardi, last year's Western Regional Coach of the Year, can count on second or third teamers if needed.

The Redbirds open the season Nov. 22-23 at the Ohio Open in Dayton.

ISU returns 10 lettermen while losing only two wrestlers to graduation.

Gone are 177-pounder Phil Kerr (17-18-1) last year's heavyweight and national qualifier Jim Walker (30-8-1). Walker scored a team-leading 131.5 points.

But Girardi does have two other national qualifiers back in 134-pounder Kevin Bellis of Skokie (Niles East). Bellis, a senior, was 32-10-2 last season. LaManna, one of several sophomores forced to step in as freshmen, compiled an 18-15-1 mark.

Girardi, in his third year at ISU, did not have a definite lineup in mind prior to last season. "This year I pretty much know who'll be where," he states.

At 118 pounds, Girardi expects to red-shirt last year's regular Todd Rosenthal of Moline. The senior will be representing the United States in the Greco-Roman World Games in December.

Girardi is able to do without Rosenthal this year because sophomore let-terman Leo Misdon of South Holland (Thorndale) was 7-1 last year and is more than capable. Girardi also has last year's Illinois High School Association Class A state champ Matt Haas of El Paso.

LaManna will have to earn his spot at 126 with Blackhawk Junior College transfer Scott Coppens of Moline. John Ruggs of Lonsdale (Moline) and Mike Schatz of Schiller Park (East Leyden) and Dave DeJannett of Sterling all breathing down his back.

Bellis seems a safe bet at 134 with freshman Paul Greiner of Markham (Hillcrest) set to step in. Another super sophomore, Tony Jan DeNorth of Downers Grove (South), was 21-6-1 in 142 pounds as a frosh.

Classmates Ed Mulvey of Pekin and Ken Alexa of Lockport provide adequate depth.

Sam Perkins of Granite City South is another sophomore who went 17-10-3 last year. Freshmen Dan Kinkadee of Moline and Mark Day of Normal are backups.

Mark Day is the third day to wrestle at ISU, joining brothers Steve (ISU '78) and Mike (ISU '71).

At 150 pounds, Mike Jones of North Chicago is this year's captain. Jones, a junior, was 26-10-2 last year.

Sophomore Jeff Guidish of Palos Park (Carl Sandburg) and Pat Carney of Downers Grove (North) are solid but haven't been able to find a spot to wrestle at.

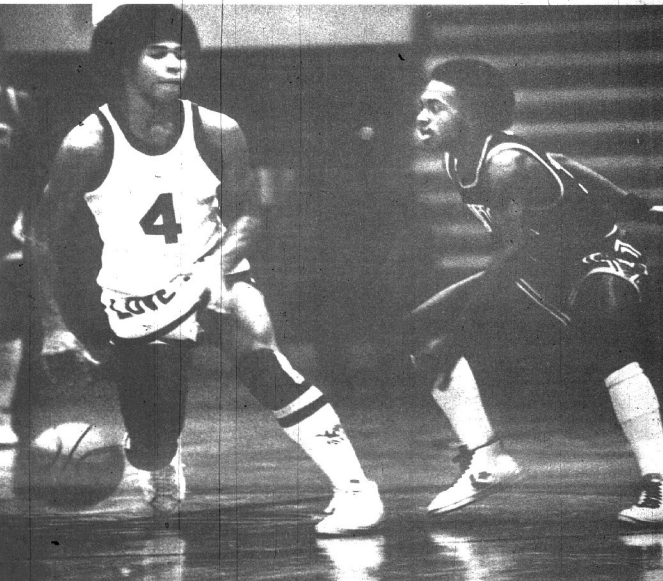

Junior Gregg Johnson of Rock Island (Allemani) was 24-17-1 at 167 pounds last year. Carney could also see action here.

Junior Neil Weiner of Wilmette (New Trier East) will try wrestling up at 177 pounds after going 8-7 last year backing up Jones and Johnson. Jim Luzinski and Bob Ward, high school teammates at Palatine, will push Weiner.

The squad's other senior, Jimm Steen of New Lenox (Lincoln Way), is set at 190 pounds after finishing 13-20-1 a year ago. Luzinski and Ward are scheduled to back up Steen also.

Jordy Rich of Wilmette (New Trier East) will try to fill Walker's shoes. Rich weighs 250 pounds and bench presses 440 pounds. He was 2-4 last season in limited duty. ISU football tackle Joe Spavak of Oak Forest will add depth once the Redbird football team ends its season.

Girardi believes this year's schedule will be as tough as last year's. "Records will be tough to match last season," Girardi points out. "We won't be able to sneak up on people like last year."

Quincy College wins 4th title

SPRINGFIELD—Quincy College won the NAIA National Soccer Championship here Saturday with a 1-0 victory over Simon Fraser College.

Tor Duffer scored the only goal of the game 28 seconds into the first overtime. It was Quincy's fourth straight championship. The two teams were tied 0-0 after 90 minutes of regulation play.

The assist on the goal went to Mike Kossman.

Davis & Elkins College won the third-place game with a come-from-behind victory over the University of Alabama-Huntsville. Alabama had jumped out to an early 2-0 lead on goals from Kevin Murphy and Schuler.

Flyers hold off tenacious Red Devils

EAST ST. LOUIS—The Venice Red Devils ran into some "big" problems when they opened up the East St. Louis Thanksgiving Round-Robin Basketball Tournament here Thursday. The opponent was Chicago Dunbar and the problem was the Dunbar players.

The Mighty Men started a front line of six foot eight, six foot seven and six foot four. Need anyone be a real line rebounding totals were really lopsided and so was the score as Venice went down in defeat 79-40.

With size in their favor, the Mighty Men put it to use. The first four times down the court, Venice took six shots and came away with two points. Dunbar, on the other hand, scored 6 tallies on 22 attempts. In the process of chalking up those six points, they tip the ball four times on two different occasions, 5 times on two more tries and nine shots at the sixth point.

"They were really big," said Venice head coach Ken Perkins. "They dominated the inside. We just didn't get two shots at the basket at a time."

The Red Devils were definitely out-matched, but they shrugged off the size differential and took it to the giants of Dunbar. The first half looked like David, slaying Goliath. Maybe because Dunbar was shooting so poorly from the outside, but Venice held tough, down by only five at halftime.

Although Dunbar was big, Venice sealed its own fate with numerous missed opportunities. "We missed nine free throws and 17 lay-ups," said Perkins. "In all, we missed 35 possible crisp shots. Anytime you miss that many, you don't deserve to win."

Hoping to stay close and turn in a respectable game was only a prayer for the Red Devils. "They (Dunbar) went inside in the second half and their shooting warmed-up," said Perkins.

"That was the whole ball game." "The Mighty Men tacked up 20 points in the third quarter and 28 in the final stanza to bury Venice. Dunbar's situation was helped as it hit at a 55 percent clip from the floor compared to 43 for Venice."

While Dunbar placed four players in double figures, the Red Devils were led by Archie Gardner with 18 points.

Harold Milton was close behind with 17 and William Watts totaled 10.

EAST ST. LOUIS Learning their lesson Thursday, the Venice basketball team went up against yet another tall team in East St. Louis Friday. This time Venice knew how to handle a big squad. But, it wasn't size that produced its 77-43 loss to the Flyers, it was the inexperience.

Venice stayed close to the Class 2A power throughout the contest by accomplishing two things. It kept the ball outside and prevented the Flyers from taking advantage of their height inside. East St. Louis, like Chicago Dunbar, started a front line at six foot seven, six foot six and six foot four.

Down by 10 to 12 points the entire first half, the Red Devils started a push to narrow the gap. Head Coach Ken Perkins noted it was during that drive that one of the two turning points occurred for Venice.

Lincoln roars to tourney championship

MOUNT VERNON—With five players in double figures, the East St. Louis Lincoln Tigers roared to their second consecutive Mount Vernon Turkey Classic basketball tournament championship here Saturday night with a 69-54 victory over the host school, Mount Vernon in the "championship" game of the round-robin tournament.

Mount Vernon's Rams blew a ten-point lead late in the third quarter when Lincoln got hot from the floor and Mount Vernon cooled off.

Kanakkee Westview defeated Granite City South 68-50 in the first game of the Saturday night session (see related story).

The fourth quarter was all Lincoln. The Tigers out-scored Mount Vernon 27-12 in the final stanza to win the championship. Clarence Jordan and Edward Wilson paced the East St. Louis Lincoln scoring attack with 14 point each. Tyrone Jackson, who was a bull on the boards, scored 13 points.

Todd Porter and Jimmy Ike scored 12 points each for Lincoln, which finished the tournament with a perfect 3-0 record for the second straight season.

Six-foot-two senior forward Scott Piper of Mount Vernon led all scorers with 21 points. But he was the only Ram player to score in double figures.

In earlier tournament action, Lincoln defeated Kanakkee Westview in overtime 62-60 in overtime. Mount Vernon blasted Granite City South 52-38. Lincoln beat South 57-40 and Kanakkee Westview beat Mount Vernon.

Players named to the All-Tournament team were: Jackson and Porter of Lincoln, Piper of Mount Vernon and Kanakkee Westview's Donnell Buckanhan and Stu Bogán.

County to enforce mobile home taxes

By GARY W. KRONK

More than a half-million dollars in back taxes is owed to Madison County by mobile home owners, according to County Treasurer Michael "Mick" Henkhaus, and he hopes to do something about it soon.

Since the passage of the Mobile Home Act of 1973, unpaid mobile home taxes and interest have accumulated to $535,365 as of April 1, 1980. Henkhaus said he has been discussing the matter with the state's attorney and has now received permission to try to collect these back taxes.

"We will go after them first with a letter asking for payment," he said. "If they fail to comply, we'll take the matter to a small claims court."

Henkhaus said the county contains 3,081 mobile homes. There are 417 inside Nameoki Township, which are responsible for more back taxes than any other township in the county.

"A total of $128,708 in back taxes has not been collected from some mobile homes in Nameoki Township," said Henkhaus. "They have Wood River beat by about $500, yet Nameoki has about half the mobile homes."

Others in the top five are Wood River, Edwardsville, Chouteau and Granite City. Henkhaus said some of the problem involves mobile homes that have become really mobile.

"Several people owing taxes no longer live in the same place," he said. "They moved into a place for about a year and then moved out before it came time to pay taxes."

"Through a license inspector, I hope we can obtain registration numbers to help track down these people. Many mobile home parks keep their own records of trailers and their numbers and we expect these to help greatly," he explained.

Although Henkhaus said the number of mobile homes that have moved out prior to taxes is large, he said the majority of the back tax problem involves people who have remained, but have simply not paid.

Henkhaus said the Mobile Home Act of 1973 has several provisions to help enforce tax payment, "but these have been somewhat ineffective," he added.

"The law is supposed to prevent people from moving more than a mile without a permit and to get the permit they are supposed to show evidence of having paid their taxes called privilege taxes under the 1973 act. Somehow people are getting around having to show this evidence."

Patti Gerlach in jazz concert

The Concert Jazz Band and the Jazz Combo at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville will perform Monday, Dec. 8, at 8:15 p.m. in the Communications Building theater. Among the performers is Patti Gerlach of Granite City, a flute player.

Brett Stamps will direct both groups. Mark Colby, saxophone, will be featured as the guest artist. Formerly a member of the Maynard Ferguson Band, Colby earned his master's degree in music from the University of Miami.

Preceding the performance, there will be a saxophone and improvisation clinic in Room 202 of the Communications Building at 4:30 p.m.

For the concert, the band and combo will perform selections by Thad Jones, Horace Silver, Duke Ellington, John Coltrane, James Van Heusen and others.

WATCHES TAKEN

Two Timex watches valued at $30 were taken in a burglary at 709 Iowa St. Madison. Jim Chernoff, owner of the home, discovered the break-in at 5:30 p.m. Wednesday. The front door had been forced.

Essay contest on teen driving

Only a few weeks remain for Illinois high school seniors to submit entries in the 1980 traffic safety essay contest sponsored by the Illinois Editors' Traffic Safety Seminar.

Lionel Kramer, seminar secretary and executive vice-president of AAA-Chicago Motor Club, said entries must be received Dec. 31 to compete for the ten $500 scholarship grants being made available to winners—five boys and five girls.

Theme of this year's essay contest is, "Teenage Drivers: Are They Getting Better or Worse?" Contest chairman is Ray Hertel, managing editor of the Joliet Herald News.

The contest is open to all Illinois high school seniors in public, parochial and private schools. Entry blanks or facsimiles must accompany all entries (entry blanks are available by mail from Seminar Headquarters, 66 E. South Water St., Chicago, IL 60601).

Final judging will be done by a panel of University of Illinois educators. Scholarship awards will be presented at the Seminar honors luncheon in May at the Ramada Inn in Champaign.

School boards urge written test for would-be teachers

Most Illinois school boards require applicants for teaching certificates should be required to pass written examinations in basic literacy skills and in the subjects they want to teach.

Although the measure drew substantial opposition, a majority of Illinois school boards voted last month to support a required test for new teachers. The resolution was voted on by 670 school board representatives at the annual meeting of the Illinois Association of School Boards (IASB).

Most of the delegates felt the state of Illinois should "weed out" candidates for teacher-certificates who cannot write grammatical English or use simple math," observes Harold P. Seamon, IASB executive director. "However, many boards feel they can do the job better at the local level. They see the test as a stamp of approval by the state that could make it more difficult to fire unsatisfactory teachers," he noted.

School board delegates voted on more than 20 other resolutions and elected officers at a business session part of a three-day training conference for board members and administrators.

Delegates were nearly unanimous in voting to "urge the General Assembly to continue to study possible alternative" sources of revenue for local school districts, including enactment of a local income tax or sales tax.

Many delegates favoring the measure said, school districts should have the option of using income or sales taxes in order to reduce property taxes.

"Delegates were very sensitive to the important relationship between local control and the power to tax," Seamon notes. "Most board members, I believe, want tax rates established locally rather than by the legislature."

On a related resolution, school boards were nearly unanimous in asking the legislature for the power to raise property tax rates without voter approval.

"This position will not be popular with many property owners," Seamon notes, "but many Illinois school districts have their backs against the wall. I think the measure received near-unanimous support, because local boards are willing to take the responsibility for tax rates and to let voters judge their actions when they stand for re-election."

IASB is a voluntary association of 912 school boards, created to help boards solve problems and improve performance. Questions voted on at the meeting are introduced in the form of resolutions by one or a number of school boards, and each IASB member board is entitled to one vote in each resolution. The annual conference is held jointly with the Illinois Association of School Administrators and Illinois Association of School Business Officials.

"The annual conference is the only opportunity for all Illinois school boards to jointly define their positions on vital issues," Seamon explained. "The General Assembly is under constant pressure from groups with their own axes to grind, and it is left to local boards of education to defend the interests of students, parents and taxpayers of their communities."

Pre-conference activities began with a tour of the Chicago public schools and a workshop on school board policy development. The conference continued with 50 panel discussions and workshop sessions. General session speakers included the new state school superintendent, Donald G. Gill, and A. Graham Dowd, executive director of the Council for Basic Education.

The conference attracted about 4,000 school board members and administrators, who came looking for help from specialists in fields ranging from insurance and energy to collective bargaining, school law, and public relations, he added.

The conference also is one of the few opportunities for school board members and administrators to share ideas and problems and solutions with their colleagues around the state, Seamon said.

After the talks, Republican Women's President, Venie, gave away prizes, including an Afghan. Holsinger ended the meeting with the hope that with the renewed GOP interest in this area, the party will continue to make political gains at all levels.

HOME BURGLARIZED Barbara Darden, 1100 Calhoun St., Venice, discovered that between 6 p.m. and 8 p.m. Tuesday, her house had been burglarized. A 19-inch black and white television was taken from the bedroom. Entry was gained by breaking a window.

Kindergarten Thanksgiving

Pumpkin pie and popcorn were enjoyed by the Madison Harris School afternoon kindergarten class taught by Mrs. Georgia Siawar on Wednesday prior to Thanksgiving.

The children dressed as pilgrims and Indians and made turkeys and teepees for table decorations. The origin of Thanksgiving was discussed in class and the children each mentioned what they were thankful for.

VAN IS LOOTED

The van of Winford Marler, 2210 Bryan Ave., was broken into and looted in the driveway of his home, the night of Nov. 22. Police were notified last week. A vent window was broken to gain entry. Stolen were two snow tires on wheels, a combination radio-tape player, a box of tools, a seat cover, a two-ton hydraulic jack and the cigarette lighter. The windshield also was broken. A wooden cabinet door was damaged and the windshield wiper switch was broken off.

$900 burglary

Items valued at approximately $900 were stolen from the apartment of Sharon Parker in the 3100 block of Nameoki Road, between 1 and 5:30 p.m. Thursday. Entry was believed gained by reaching through a previously-broken glass pane in a door to unlock the door.

Taken were $70 in cash, five blank checks, gold necklaces worth $110 and $200, four pairs of fashion jeans worth a total of $200, six pairs of shoes worth $200, a blanket and several candle holders.

TO MARRY. Miss Mary Helen McCunney and Conrad Allen Shepard whose betrothal is announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William J. McCunney of Madison. A May wedding is planned.

Mary McCunney is betrothed

Plans for a May wedding were revealed with the engagement announcement of Miss Mary Helen McCunney and Conrad Allen Shepard by the bride-to-be's parents, Mr. and Mrs. William J. McCunney of Madison.

The groom-elect is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Conrad Shepard of Granite City.

A 1980 graduate of South High School, Miss McCunney is presently employed as a cashier at the Spartan Service Station in Pontoon Beach.

Her fiancé was graduated from South High School in 1979 and is working as a maintenance electrician at East St. Louis Castings Co.

Tracy Lane is engaged

An announcement is being made by Mr. and Mrs. David J. Lane, 419 Washington Drive, Waterloo, Ill., of the engagement of their daughter, Miss Tracy Lynn Lane to David L. Gilmore.

The groom-elect is the son of Mrs. Mary J. Gilmore, 2749 Roosevelt Ave., and the late Oliver A. Gilmore.

Plans are being completed by the engaged couple to be married in March at St. Paul United Church of Christ, Waterloo.

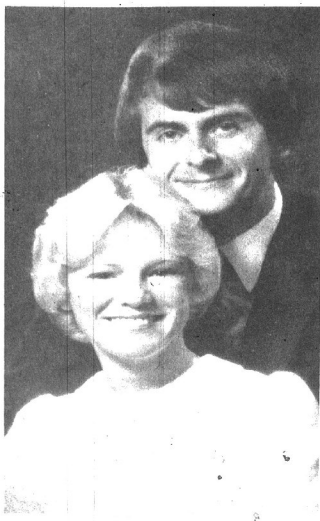

Miss Lane is administrative secretary at Sverdrup, Parcel & Associates, Inc., and is a graduate of Waterloo High School.

Her fiancé graduated from South High School and from Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville where he received a degree in Business Administration. He works as a programmer-scheduler at Sverdrup, Parcel & Associates, Inc.

Cantata Sunday at St. Peter's

Sunday, Dec. 7, at 7 p.m. the Chancel Choir of St. Peter Evangelical United Church of Christ, under the direction of Mrs. Karen S. Brown, will perform the J. S. Bach cantata "For Us a Child Is Born."

Guest soloists include Mrs. Eunice Seamen, alto, and Thomas Collins, tenor. Immediately following a brief intermission, church members will present a chancel drama, "The Journey of the Three Kings," by Henri Gheon. This will be an evening of family entertainment and the public is invited, according to the Rev. James Brown, pastor.

TO WED. Miss Tracy Lynn Lane and her fiancé David L. Gilmore. Their engagement and plans for a March wedding is being announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. David J. Lane, 419 Washington Drive, Waterloo, Ill.

MR. AND MRS. TOMMY RICHARDS. They were united in marriage at Tri-City Park Tabernacle. Formerly Cynthia Ann Hochuli the bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sonny Hochuli, 1642 Edison Ave.

Cynthia Hochuli and Tommy Richards wed

Miss Cynthia Ann Hochuli, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sonny Hochuli, 1642 Edison Ave., and Tommy David Richards, son of Mr. and Mrs. Troy Mohon, 4208 Maryville Road, were united in marriage on Aug. 23 at Tri-City Park Tabernacle.

The Rev. Thurnace York performed the double ring ceremony at 6 o'clock in the evening.

Pianist Mary Peters and organist, Redi Johnson accompanied Karen Becktel and Tony Johnson as they sang, "The Rose," "Longer," and "The Wedding Song."

For her wedding, the bride chose a white silk organza gown with Chantilly trim fashioned with a high neckline, sheer yoke and bishop sleeves.

Her full bouffant skirt was created with a band of tiers at the hemline draped to the back to form an apron effect, and cascaded into a cathedral train.

She wore a matching lace crown, etched with pearls, to secure her fingertip veil which was edged with lace. She carried a bouquet of white daisies, yellow mums and baby's breath.

Her bridesmaids, Lisa Cedar and bridesmaids, Tracy Green, Christi Peters, a cousin of the bride, Carolyn Roth and Rhonda Mohon, a sister of the groom, were dressed alike in sweet pea color qiana gowns.

Their dresses were designed with empire bodices with spaghetti straps and long skirts complemented with long sleeve jackets. Each attendant wore flowers in her hair to match the bouquets of white daisies, yellow mums and baby's breath.

Lesley Weeke, a cousin of the bride, and Christopher Johnson, served as flower girl and ringbearer.

She wore a white, eyelet frock trimmed with lace and carried a basket of blossoms.

John Miller attended the groom as best man, Mike Miller, Rich Hermes, a cousin of the groom, Royce Meyenburg, Gary and Davis Peters, cousins of the bride, and Gerry Beck, completed the corps of groomsmen and ushers.

Lisa Weeke, the bride's cousin, attended the guest book at a reception held at Engelbert Hall in Madison.

The rehearsal dinner was hosted at Burn's Cafeteria, by the groom's parents.

Mrs. Hochuli was attired in a long mint green gown featuring a chiffon capelet. The groom's mother appeared in an apricot halter style dress and jacket ensemble.

The bride is a graduate of South High School and Jewish Hospital School of Nursing, and is presently employed at the St. Louis hospital.

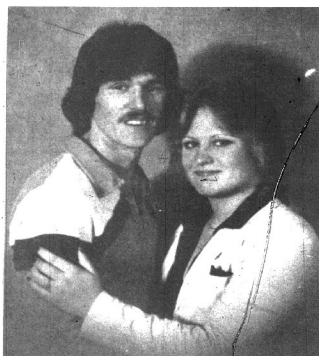

Her husband was graduated from North High School and Sanford Brown Business College. He is working in the engineering department of Illinois Power Co.

They are residing in St. Ann, Mo.

Knight-Haug engagement

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Haug, 21 Shirwin Drive, are announcing the engagement of their daughter, Miss Maria Haug to Ricky D. Knight.

The groom-elect is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald R. Knight, 2340 Delta Ave.

Miss Haug attended Granite City High School North.

Her fiancé was graduated in 1976 from Granite City High School South and is presently employed in the Blast Furnace of Granite City Steel.

The engaged couple and their families are planning a wedding for March 21 at St. Margaret, Mary Roman Catholic Church.

Ladies-In-Action elect

The Ladies-In-Action met last week at Briarcliff Pentecostal Church to elect officers and make plans for the holiday season.

Mrs. Dorothy Dickerson was elected president, succeeding Mrs. Chris Stentzer.

Others named to office for 1981 were:

Mrs. Marge Glasgow, vice president; Mrs. Phyllis Allen, treasurer; and Mrs. Bonnie Davis, secretary, who is serving in the post for the fourth year.

Plans were made for the annual Christmas party, scheduled Dec. 15 at the Midtown Restaurant in Alton.

Mrs. Glasgow announced the resumption of making peanut brittle candy this Wednesday, and it was decided to hold a white elephant auction at the January meeting.

The group voted to add two new committees to the current bylaws—Nursing Homes and Home Visitation.

The women will visit the Mill Haven Nursing Home in Millstadt on a regular basis, it was agreed.

A group of young people from the church also will pay a call at the same home to sing Christmas carols and present gifts on Dec. 20.

Members decided to adopt a family with children for Christmas and provide food and other items.

Devotions were offered by Mrs. Vangie Bowser and refreshments were served by Mrs. Wanda Watson.

Also attending were Mesdames Dorothy Lakin, Opal Orrell, Bertha Dix, Norma Tolbert, Doris Glasgow, Lillian Barton, Onie Farless, Mary Buday and JoAnn Buday.

MR. AND MRS. BRETT GRAY whose wedding took place at the First United Presbyterian Church. The bride is the former Lisa Kee, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Denny Kee, 2566 Ivy Lane.

Lisa Kee becomes Mrs. Brett Gray

The First United Presbyterian Church was the scene of the wedding on Aug. 30 of Miss Lisa Kee, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Denny Kee, 2566 Ivy Lane, and Mrs. Ed Kuehn, 117 Kinder Lane.

The 1 o'clock afternoon ceremony was performed by the Rev. David Maxton who was followed by a reception held in the church hall.

For her wedding, the former Miss Kee chose a full length white chiffon bouffant gown designed with a fitted bodice, cap sleeves, high neckline and cathedral train. Her fingertip veil, bordered with tulle, was held in place with a Juliet cap. She held a bouquet of blue and white carnations with sprigs of baby's breath.

Paula Arnold, honor attendant, selected a long blue floral organza dress created with a molded sleeveless bodice, V-neckline and full skirt encircled with a gathered flounce and worn with a sheer cape.

Laura Kee, a sister of the bride, served as bridesmaid.

She was attired in a blue formal length gown identical to the honor attendant.

Both held bouquets to match the bridal arrangement and they wore weds of baby's breath in their hair.

Danny Manning was best man and Les Kee, a brother of the bride, was the groomsmen.

Mrs. Kee, mother of the bride, chose a long teal gown complemented with a matching cape.

Both young people attended Granite City High School North.

Miss Cindy Ferguson presided over the guest book. Out of town guests included Lee Kee, William, sport Ind. Mr. and Mrs. Bob King, Morton, Ill. Mr. and Mrs. Robert King, Poplar Bluff, Mo. Miss Jayne Elizabeth Brown, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard L. Brown, 2851 Grand Ave., became the bride of Martin Lloyd Davis, son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Davis, 2328 Grand Ave., on Aug. 30 at Concord Trinity Methodist Church, St. Louis.

The Rev. Roy L. Baugh officiated at the double ring service at 4 o'clock in the afternoon.

Rick Brown, a brother of the bride, gave her in marriage and served as her attendant.

Chris Aleman of Granite City, was groomsmen. After the ceremony a dinner reception for the families was hosted at Schober's Restaurant, in St. Louis.

Both young people attended Granite City High School South.

They are residing in Granite City.

MR. AND MRS. MARTIN DAVIS. They exchanged wedding vows at Concord Trinity Methodist Church, St. Louis. Formerly Jayne Elizabeth Brown, the bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard L. Brown, 2851 Grand Ave.

Golden Agers hear Yule plans

A bus trip to Our Lady of the Snows Shrine in Belleville and a Christmas dinner party are among the plans for the holiday season reviewed at last week's meeting of the Golden Agers Senior Club at the Kirkpatrick Recreation Hall.

Twenty-seven attended and Ruby Corbitt, president, was in charge.

Reports were presented by Carrie Hart, secretary, and Juanita Crawley, treasurer. Members who are ill or in hospitals were also remembered.

Mrs. Corbitt announced a Christmas dinner party will take place at 12 noon, Dec. 9, at the Kirkpatrick Hall, with the main course being provided by Randall and Linda Irwin.

Birthday greetings were sung to Edgar Paddock and Edward Graham. It was noted also that Mr. and Mrs. Graham had celebrated a wedding anniversary Nov. 18.

The Lady of the Snows Shrine excursion, planned Dec. 8, will start at 4 p.m. instead of the previously mentioned time. Mrs. Corbitt said a mini-bus will be available for those without transportation to the Granite City Township Center from where the outing will originate, she advised. Refreshments and entertainment will be offered at the center upon the group's return there.

Cake and coffee were served after the business session and games were played. Winning prizes were Caroline Lux, Pauline Cox, Arthur Lindner, Vi Lindner, Lillian Gregory and Mrs. Corbitt.

Secretaries to meet Thursday

The Tri-Cities Chapter, International Secretaries Association, will host its annual Christmas dinner party at 6:15 p.m. Thursday, Dec. 4, at Rusty's Restaurant in Edwardsville, according to Twila Edmonds, president.

Cathy Smith, chairman of the current membership drive, announces there will be reports on the four chapter teams presented at the dinner meeting.

During the social hour a gift exchange will be conducted.

Gardenaires aids scouts

At the November meeting of the Gardenaires Garden Club, which was held at the home of Mrs. Jerry Arbeiter, plans were compiled for two Girl Scout Troops to attend mini-workshops seminars at the Missouri Botanical Gardens in St. Louis, under the sponsorship of the garden club.

Brownie Troop 567, whose leader is Mrs. Beverly Desereth, will attend the month and Cadet Troop 328, led by Mrs. Diana Kinder and Mrs. Diane Swift are enrolled for the December program.

Each year the local club provides scholarships or funds for area young people to participate in approved conservation, or horticulture camps and workshops.

Mrs. Leo Schank, president, appointed Mrs. Richard Kerch chairman of the "Smoking" contest, the coloring, etc. The third grade classes at Parkview School are being invited to enter the contest. All entries will be judged at the local level, and prizes awarded, before the entries are sent to Chicago for judging at the state level, it was noted.

Members present reported the number of trees, shrubs and bulbs they had planted. This information will be included in the Plant Illinois report made each year of the annual convention of Illinois State Garden Clubs. The club voted to continue its support of the World Gardening program, and made a monetary donation to the project.

At the conclusion of the business meeting Mrs. Alex Tarpoif presented a program on "Flowers of Hawaii." In keeping with the year's program theme, "Welcome to My Garden," Mrs. Tarpoif told the group to her gardening efforts at her home on the islands and the different types of horticulture she worked with.

Mrs. Schank reminded the members of the work day scheduled for Dec. 2, at the Granite City Public Library, to decorate the main floor of the library. Members were reminded to bring ornaments for decorating the tree.

Mrs. Charles Kohl invited the club to her home on Dec. 11 for a Christmas brunch. Present were Mrs. C. E. Eads, Mrs. Andrew Gonzales, Mrs. Robert Hintz, Mrs. Roy Hornum and Mrs. Mary Kristian.

European tour chapter topic

The fifth meeting of the Nu Zeta Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi Sorority, was held in the home of Betty Thomas.

After a business meeting, Judy Baril of Xi Epsilon Chi gave a talk and slide presentation of her trip to England and Bavaria.

Those present were Carol Moerlen, Marcie Johnson, Leoma Mackel, Debbie Brown and Cheryl Barton.

Marcie Johnson hosted the next meeting of the Nu Zeta Chapter last week.

It was reported that the Christmas party and gift exchange will be held Dec. 20, at the Amvets Club, 5100 Lakeview Drive.

With Mrs. Johnson instructing, each member made a red basket and pine cone wreath to be sold at the Flea Market Dec. 14.

Those attending were Debbie Brown, Betty Thomas, Cheryl Barton, Carol Moerlen and Leoma Mackel.

News notes

Thanksgiving songs were performed Wednesday afternoon by Harris School third grade pupils, who were joined in some of the selections by members of the Madison-Venice Rotary Club. Mrs. Valerie Stevens directed the student group, which was costumed as pilgrims and Indians. Blair School youngsters will entertain the Rotarians with a Christmas program Dec. 17.

Roland W. Griffith Jr. of Alton, state's attorney of Madison County from 1961 to 1972, will be among the part-time assistants on the staff of new State's Attorney Donald Weber. Both are Republicans.

Talks on productivity between the Belleville Area College faculty and board have been recessed until 7 tonight. Slow progress was reported in negotiations last week. An 18-day strike by part of the teaching staff ended Nov. 20.

A charge of taking $932 from a Burger King at 808 N. Broadway, St. Louis, Mo., Wednesday has been filed against William Childers, 17, of the 2600 block of Grand Avenue, Granite City. A janitor at the restaurant, he is alleged to have opened a ceiling panel, crawled 150 feet along a pipe in a ceiling space over the kitchen and dining area, and dropped into the restaurant office. The money was recovered above a supply room.

The East-West Gateway Coordinating Council board on Wednesday set goals for the 1980s including creation of a two-lane, two-lane highway, renovation of Mississippi River bridges, construction of a light rail rapid-transit system, and extension of the Jefferson National Expansion Memorial to the East St. Louis riverfront.

Illinois voter turnout Nov. 4 totaled 4,668,623. The official canvass shows President-elect Ronald Reagan led in 99 of the 102 counties (except Cook, Alexander and Clair), totaling 2,338,091, against 1,981,413 for Jimmy Carter and 346,754 for John B. Anderson. Alan Dixon, chosen as U.S. senator, carried 50 counties and tallied 2,565,302 to 1,946,296 for David C. O'Neil.

University of Illinois trustee posts went to an incumbent Democrat, Nina Shepherd of Winnetka, with 1,995,637 votes, and two Republicans, Mrs. Galey De of Belvidere, 1,914,231, and Dean Madden of Decatur, 2,009,945. Republican Thomas Welch of Collinsville defeated Democrat Robert Mays of East St. Louis for appellate judge, 250,153 to 249,134, the official canvass shows.

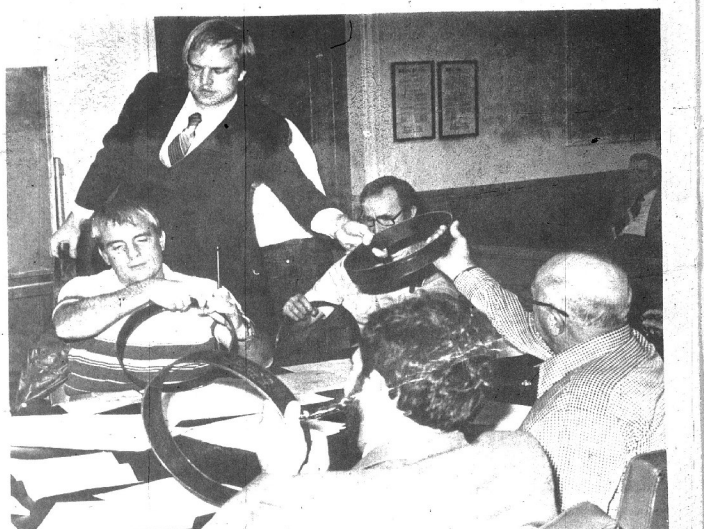

Sam Fox, former president and chief executive of Diversified Industries, says a lawsuit filed by the company against him and another former Diversified employee is without merit. The suit seeks $30 million in punitive damages on a 1975 agreement under which the firm leased a Madison warehouse it owned. Fox said he negotiated the lease directly with Diversified officials, three months after he had resigned as an officer and director. The suit contends the lease terms were below market value and that there were potentially more profitable uses than leasing the building to L & M Warehouse Corp.

Man takes cart of groceries

Paul Grimmer, manager of the Kroger Store, Nameoki Village Shopping Center, reported a man entered the store at 4:54 p.m. Friday, filled a grocery cart with various food items and pushed the cart through the store without paying for the groceries.

Upon reaching the scene, police officers took Paul Skyrhorne Johnson, 35, of Granite City, into custody and charged him with disorderly conduct and resisting arrest.

The cart was found outside the store and after a tally was made, it was discovered the groceries had a total value of $234.

County OKs $35 million budget

A $35,301,325 budget worked out by the Madison County Board Wednesday may cause the county tax levy rise about one cent per $100 assessed valuation, according to county officials. The new budget is about 10 percent larger than last year's, but since property taxes provide only a portion of the county revenues, it is believed the tax levy will not rise proportionately. There were some disagreements over the budget expressed at Wednesday's county board meeting, but was approved after the board agreed to add about $31,000 to the state's attorney's office appropriation and about $50,000 to allow the "phasing out" of many services of the Madison County Tuberculosis Clinic, rather than curtailing those services immediately. The estimated tax rate for the county next year is 64.48 cents per $100 assessed valuation, a slight rise from

3 injured in Gocian, Krieshok 3-bus crash in halfway house

Three Chicagoans obtained treatment here after a three-bus chain-reaction collision on Interstate 270 Illinois Route 203 at 2:20 p.m. Friday. One of the buses rolled down an embankment into the median of the divided four-lane highway. State police said a west-bound car moved from the outer lane to the passing lane, causing an auto and two of the buses to nearly stop. The third westbound bus failed to halt in time, hitting the middle bus, which was knocked against the first bus.

The three buses, operated by the Fellowship Missionary Church, Chicago, were headed to the Executive International Inn in St. Louis County but were still at the crash scene several hours later.

Granite City Municipal ambulances took Roy Daley, 52, neck and back injuries, and Alfonso Spearman, 28, right knee abrasions, to St. Elizabeth Medical Center, where they were treated and released. Also at the hospital was Olysses Johnson of Chicago; he declined treatment.

Eta Chapter plans party

Eta Chapter of Phi Tau Omega Sorority, formal dinner and dance for Eta Chapter on Dec. 9 to be held at Sunset Hills Country Club, during a dinner and dance. The group met for the social session at Charlie's Restaurant hosted by Lois Lodge, Mrs. Greathouse and Dorothy Costello.

President Mary Lou Richardson presided at the meeting and announced the next business segment will convene on Dec. 3 at the Elks Lodge.

Glazes for the evening went to Mary Hassler, Kathryn Weddell, Ann Tatum, and Evelyne Todd, and the president. Others attending were Lorraine Butler, Shirley Morgan, Evelyn Todd, Gladys Waggoner, Mary Evelyn Schroeder, Betty Krug, Hilda Yenchner, Martha Ruth Thomas and a guest, Sherry Stefanoff.

Woman is shot, man held

Georgia Wallace, 18, 1023 Market St., Madison, was shot in the lower right neck at approximately 3 p.m. Saturday.

She was taken to St. Elizabeth Medical Center, where she was in stable condition to Barnes Hospital in St. Louis.

She was the guest of a friend in the Greener Homes when the shooting occurred. The bullet went into the lower right neck and exited the lower left neck according to police.

A projectile was reported found in the wall.

Madison police are holding a 20-year-old man pending a court appearance today on charges of reckless conduct, unlawful use of a weapon and no firearms identification.

It is alleged by the man himself that the shooting was accidental. Police are investigating the incident.

Question youth in burglary case

Granite City police were holding one youth for investigation this morning and planned to interview other youths in connection with a burglary of a camper behind the home of Floyd Ellis, 2419 Dewey Ave., at 2:40 a.m. today.

Mrs. Ellis said a silent burglar alarm to the camper sounded in the house and she looked out to see a light in the camper. A youth walked out, shut the door and walked to Dewey Avenue.

Since he was not carrying anything, Mrs. Ellis did not notify police at that time. Minutes later, however, the alarm sounded again and police were summoned.

There was no one in the camper when officers arrived, but fishing nets, a tackle box and a box of boat lights from the camper were found in a trash bin by the alley. Mrs. Ellis said she believed the youth she had seen leaving the camper was a neighborhood boy. Officers went to that youth's home and arrested him, pending additional investigation.

Post trial motions denied in Jim Green-Telegraph case

Circuit Judge Charles Chapman ruled Wednesday that the $9.2 million verdict awarded former resident developer Jim Green by a jury in a lawsuit against the Alton Telegraph newspaper, two of its reporters was a proper verdict and should stand.

Suspect arson in Grand Cafe fire

The possibility of arson is under investigation in connection with a $2,300 fire in a rear dining room of the Grand Cafe, 1413 Twentieth St., at 8:55 a.m. Sunday. The fire started near the restrooms and was discovered about five minutes after a man passed through the area to use the restrooms. He was described as in his late 20s, about 5 feet, 7 inches tall, slim and having short blond hair. The fire began in paper boxes and paper products and spread to a wall and counter top. Firemen estimated damage at $800 to the building and $1,500 to its contents. Firemen were on the scene one hour.

Judge Chapman said he is not familiar with laws pertaining to inability to post an appeal bond and has not studied those laws in this case, since he was not requested to act on that matter.

His role in the case terminated with Wednesday's rulings upholding the judgment, Judge Chapman said.

Angry reactions over destruction of trees

"Snow wouldn't stay in the beds in the 200 block of Delmar Avenue long. People are that hot here," one man stated after finding out Wednesday that nine trees recently planted by the Downtown Neighborhood Restoration Society in the 200 blocks of Delmar and Edison Avenue had been destroyed by vandals. The trees, purchased for about $17 each, were cut down, probably with a hatchet or an ax sometime Tuesday night. Trees destroyed included Scabred Red Maples, Radiant Can-and Van Eseltine Crabapple trees. They were among 56 trees planted by the DNRS Nov. 15, which cost in excess of $900. The funds were raised by the society's annual house tour.

"We might offer a reward for the capture of the person or persons responsible, but if he is caught, I hope the court will sentence him to hard work," said one angry society member said.

Restore part of TB budget cut

The Madison County Board on Wednesday added $50,000 to the proposed $236,504 allocation for the county tuberculosis sanatorium, approving a suggestion by William Webb, a board member from Granite City. Webb said the Health Institution Committee, which he leads already had made a good faith effort to cut the sanatorium budget request by $50,000, from $333,715 to $303,715, and that a scheduled cut of over $117,000 from the request was too severe. The 1980 fiscal year budget was $336,504.

South speech team ties for second

Granite City High School South speech students finished in a tie for second place at the Waterloo Speech tournament, last week, competing in a field of 20 schools.

Steve Hay and Ellen Range were first place finalists in improvised duet acting; Mary Brandt and Mike More earned a third place in improvised duet acting; Pam Stavelly earned fourth place in oratorical declamation.

Tom Tracy and Marty Altenberger earned third place, and Pat Collins and Mary Pennell earned fourth in dramatic duet acting. Tom Tracy took second and Jane Geggus third in original comedy, as Karen Abrams and Mike Moore earned sixth place in humorous-duet acting.

Tom Pennell, head of the GCHS South speech department, said, "We want to congratulate the South speech team members who after three preliminary rounds of competition advanced to the final round in the tournament."

South also finished in the top ten, out of 37 schools, participating in the Belleville East High School recently.

"We feel there is no substitute for hard work and results like these give the students a real sense of accomplishment," Pennell said.

South speech students participate in a speech tournament approximately every four weeks. Future tournaments include one on Friday and Saturday, Dec. 5 and 6 in Carbondale, and at Peoria on Monday, Dec. 15.

Robbery at Church's Chicken

A white man in his early 20's, dressed in a Church's Chicken, 3142 N. 1st St., Road, at 8:50 p.m. Saturday, jumped over the counter and displayed what appeared to be a 38-caliber revolver and ordered the manager and two employees to go in the office where a safe is kept, it was reported by Jim Goppel, manager.

Goppel said the man took $105 from the safe and $100 from the cash register. He ordered the three people to go in a large cooler and stay there for five minutes. As he left a customer came into the facility and said the man had ran down Jill Avenue.

Hospital Notes

Patients admitted to St. Elizabeth Medical Center include:

Tuesday, Nov. 25: Ruby Scott, Barbara Reeder, Crystal Kennedy, Ronnie Woods, Angela Jaggie, Beverly Bennett, Melanie Hall, Deborah Bone, all of Granite City; Pamela Belfield, Washington Park; Tammie Ely, Mulberry Grove, Ill.; Donna James, Madison; Catherine Harper, Florence Williams, both of Venice.

'Pot Belly' toys recalled

William L. Kempiners, director of the Illinois Department of Public Health, has announced that the "Pot Belly" line of children's stuffed animals is being recalled by the importer in cooperation with the U.S. Consumer Product Safety Commission (CPSC).

CPSC has received a number of consumer complaints of small wires protruding from the toy animals. Testing by CPSC revealed that a substantial percentage of the toys contained sharp wires in the stuffing.

More than five million of the five different types of "Pot Bellys" have been sold nationwide in a variety of sizes since late in 1978. Pot Bellys are distributed to more than 2,800 toy stores, department stores and other retailers by the Dorek division of Hudson Brands, Ltd., of New York City.

CPSC also discovered through testing that some of the toys failed to comply with a CPSC regulation designed to prevent children under age of three years from swallowing and choking on small parts.

The "bean bag" variety of small Pot Bellys present another hazard in addition to the potential presence of small wires. The bottoms of bean bag Pot Bellys are stuffed with crushed walnut shells which could be swallowed by children if the toy animals came apart at the seams (as some did during the CPSC testing).

"Consumers are urged to return their Pot Belly stuffed animals to the retailer where the toy was purchased for a full refund or replacement," Kempiners said.

The importer also has distributed about 5,000 large Pot Belly koala bears and brown bears which are not included in the recall. These 40-inch-long bears were manufactured by a Brooklyn, N.Y., company which used a different stuffing material.

Consumers who have further questions about this recall program may call CPSC's toll-free Hotline at 800-633-6336.

Cartoon yule party Dec. 20

The Granite City Park District is offering a "first" this yule season to give mothers and fathers a chance to do their last minute Christmas shopping without their young ones with them.

The park district wants parents to drop off their youngsters at the Nameki Recreation Center on Saturday, Dec. 20, and finish their Christmas shopping. From 1 p.m. until 4 p.m., there will be cartoons, games and fun for children from kindergarten through fourth graders.

There will be adult supervision. Popcorn and soda will be for sale at a nominal fee and children will look forward to being with other children, talking about Santa Claus and comparing their Christmas lists, a spokesman said.

Registration for the Christmas party will begin today and continue through Dec. 13 at the Wilson Park office. Registration is limited to park district residents. Parents wishing additional information may contact the park office at 877-3059.

Memorials 32

IN LOVING MEMORY of our dear mother, CORDE DOWDY, who passed away Dec. 3, 1976. God took your hand, we had to part. It eased your pain, but broke our hearts. Treasure our Mom in your Garden of Rest, for on this earth, she was one of the best. Guard our dear Mom. Don't leave her alone, love Mom dear Lord, as we did at home. Sadly missed by Daughters and Grandchildren. 32 12 1

IN LOVING MEMORY of my husband, FRANK DURELL, Dec. 1, 1977. Just a thought of sweet remembrance, just a memory said from the love and sweet devotion of one who thinks of you. Sadly missed by Wife, Cora. 32 12 1

IN LOVING MEMORY of LOREN E. WORTHEN SR., Dec. 1, 1979. Today recalls and memories of a loved one gone to rest, those who think of you today are the ones who loved you best. What we would give to see you smile, today still we see you talk and smile. The love was sudden, the shock severe, to part with the one we loved so dear. We often sit and think of you, things we used to say and do, we wonder why you had to go without a chance to say goodbye. Sadly missed by Family. 32 12 1

And for relief, that summons was duly issued out of the same Court against you as provided by law, and that the said suit is now pending.

Now therefore, unless you, the said above named defendants, file your answer to the Complaint in the said Court, or otherwise make your appearance therein, the office of the Clerk of the Circuit Court of Madison County, Illinois, on or before the 22nd day of December 1980, default may be entered against you at any time after that day and a decree entered in accordance with the prayer of said Complaint. Dated: Edwardsville, Illinois November 3, 1980. WILLARD V. PORTELL, Clerk of the Circuit Court, FISH AND FISHER, Attorneys for Plaintiff. No. 12-33/11 24, 12 1

Parkview second graders all avid readers

TOP LEFT: The entire second-grade class of Mrs. Donna McBride, standing at far left, display their Independent Reading certificates. The certificates are awarded to those students who have read and reported on 10 books. Principal Agnes Fryntko stands next to Mrs. McBride.

TOP RIGHT: Lester White gets in on the act as Jeanette Bobben, children's librarian of the Granite City Public Library, entertains the children with stories and puppets during a visit she made to the school in observance of Children's Library Week.

AT RIGHT: Second grade student Dixie Price, center, is awarded a certificate for having been the first student of the school this year to have read 100 books in the Independent Reading Program. At left is Mrs. McBride and at right is Mrs. Fryntko.

All 24 students of Mrs. Donna McBride's second-grade class at Parkview School have been awarded certificates for being avid readers in the Independent Reading Program at the school. The certificates were awarded in conjunction with Children's Library Week during which Mrs. Jeanette Bobben, the children's librarian at the Granite City Public Library, visited the class and entertained them with stories and puppets.

Members of the class include Lia Mendoza, Jill Brothman, Andy Simpson, Lori Jacobs, Tonya Pocht, Brad Peppers, Billy McCormick, Dixie Price, Dean Sheikh, Kristi Holsinger, Michelle Randall, Jennifer Valbert, Bryan McKeehan, Carl Ann Crawford, Cary Cremons, Craig Leavell, Stacie Kennerly, Beth Bolandis, Mark Chapman, Jamie Mariette, Lester White, Brian Grimes, Pam Weaver and Shannon Allen.

Given special recognition for her reading efforts was Dixie Price who has already read 100 books in the Independent Reading Program. She was presented a special certificate by the school's principal Mrs. Agnes Fryntko.

Mrs. McBride's second graders certainly show that reading can be a fun and rewarding past-time.

APARTMENT BURGLARY

The apartment of Joe Stack, 4707 Kirkpatrick Homes, was burglarized sometime between Nov. 6 and 14, according to a report made at 1:32 p.m. Saturday. The victim said he had tried to find out who had entered his home by taking out a plexiglass panel in the rear door, before making a report of the incident. Items taken included a 15-inch black and white television set, clock radio, 6-inch dagger with sheath, two candle holders and various types of medicine.

County housing authority being monitored by state

The Illinois Department of Commerce and Community Affairs has decided to take no action concerning tenant-suggested removal of the members of the Madison County Housing Authority board.

Petitions signed by about 300 authority tenants and turned in to the state agency two weeks ago revealed dissatisfaction with the board members and the operation of the authority.

"I do not anticipate holding a removal hearing at this time," said Peter Lennon, chief of the office of housing and community development for the DCCA. The county board chairman, Nelson Hagmann of Granite City, appoints authority board members and the DCCA approves them. The DCCA is also supposed to have the power to remove commissioners "for negligence, malfeasance and incompetence," Lennon said.

That power, however, is being challenged in the Illinois Supreme Court, he noted.

Lennon said a representative of his office talked to commissioners of the Madison County Housing Authority. They are Reese Hoskin of Collinsville, James May of Edwardsville, Thomas Jan of Alton, Mary Jean Davis of East Alton and Paul Bargiel of Madison.

The DCCA representative let them and their attorney, Casper Nighoghossian of Granite City, know that some tenants think they are taking too active a role in the day-to-day running of the authority, Lennon said.

He added "90 percent of the problems" will be solved by the recent approval of the authority's 1980 budget by the federal Department of Housing and Urban Development. Some repairs and improvements—as well as employees' salary increases—were held up while the authority and HUD wrangled over the budget.

Lennon said the DCCA monitors the activities of housing authorities in the state, and will monitor the Madison County authority more closely now because of the complaints.

The chairman of the authority, May, said he thinks the petitions were gathered before the budget approval was announced.

ALTO STOLEN
The 1962 Chevrolet automobile of Dorothy Burylski, which was parked in the front of Baker's Drive In, 1721 Edwardsville Road, was reported stolen at 11:08 p.m. Saturday by the owner. According to the report, the theft occurred between 8:30 p.m. and 11 p.m. The car was later found in the 500 block of Filmore Avenue in Venice, and had been burned.

Many 'safe' Christmas toys still dangerous to eyes

A large number of 1980 toys labelled "safety tested" still can cause damage to the eyes and even blindness, warns the Illinois Optometric Association (IOA).

"Despite great strides by toy makers in improving the safety of their products, there remains a bevy of toys that are optometrically unsafe," explains Dr. Jim McQuiston, a Highland optometrist and an IOA spokesperson.

Toys that leap over obstacles, take off from ramps or shoot metal balls and other objects are the major culprits, he points out. It must be remembered that toys safe with regard to other parts of the body are still dangerous when the eye is a possible target.

Explained Dr. McQuiston, "The eye is a particularly sensitive organ. Even a light blow by an object that would not hurt another part of the body could cause detached retina and other serious problems to the eye."

Compounding the danger is what the doctor coins "the Christmas Syndrome."

"By that I mean a combination of factors that greatly enhance the dangers of these toys. First of all, the Christmas setting is cluttered, with little room to play amid the crowded atmosphere of the Christmas trees and assorted gift packages. Second, lights are usually low. Only the Christmas tree is lit, greatly obstructing visual judgment."

"Lastly, both children and parents are exhausted, greatly impairing sound judgments with regard to physical reflexes and to safe play rules," said Dr. McQuiston.

He said these factors "combine to cause over 50,000 eye accidents among children every Christmas, ten times more than at other times of the year."

Among the Christmas toys indicated by the Illinois Association as "potentially unsafe for the eyes" this year are:

- Shogun Warriors—large plastic robot "fires" missiles from his chest and "launches" his right fist at high velocity.
- Turn the Terrible Tank—a head-to-head game that requires the firing of a steel ball to reverse the course of an oncoming tank.

—Team America and Their Super Stunt Dirt Bike—a large, no-battery motorcycle toy that climbs, jumps, flips and does wheelies with power to spare.

—Whirl-A-Ball—a pinball game without protective canopy that can propel the metal shooter of the track and into someone's eye with "dangerous regularity."

—Mr. Mouth—a game in which tension-board launched plastic discs aimed at a rotating open mouth can easily overshoot to hit a co-player in the eye.

—Crossfire—where two persons trigger spring guns, firing metal balls that can carom off each other and hit the opponent in the eye.

Particularly dangerous, the optometrist warned, are a hydraulic-powered rocket set advertised as "propelling a rocket hundreds of feet" and a rubber-band powered plastic jet plane.

"In addition, traditional gifts such as darts and BB guns remain high on the dangerous-to-eye list," stated Dr. McQuiston.

In its statewide drive to curb Christmas eye injuries, the IOA is urging parents to include plastic eyeshields as a Christmas gift to their children.

"Ideally, the package containing these eyeshields should be labelled 'open me first' to help assure a safe Christmas," said Dr. McQuiston.

He also pointed out that there are certain toys that help a child develop motor and visualization skills which are crucial to the development of a child's visual abilities.

Public Aid ups fuel allotments

Benefits will increase for some Illinois recipients beginning Dec. 1, it was announced by Jeffrey C. Miller, director of the Illinois Department of Public Aid.

"The deduction allowed for fuel and electricity bills is increased to $160 beginning Dec. 1, making it possible for some households to receive more food stamps," Miller said. Recipients with monthly utility bills in excess of $160 may choose to have actual utility costs used instead.

The $160 deduction will remain in effect through April. More information about the Food Stamp Program may be obtained at all local Public Aid offices.

Plans complete for overpass dedication

Plans are complete for dedication of the new 19th Street traffic overpass at 11 a.m. Friday, Dec. 5.

The ceremonies are scheduled for Triangle Park, Ohio Avenue and Rock Road. Construction of the two-lane overpass structure is in an advanced stage, but no opening date has been set. When completed, it will carry autos and trucks across the city's major series of railroad tracks.

By separating vehicular traffic from the railroad crossings, the overpass will provide added safety and will afford a direct link between West Granite City and the downtown Granite City business district.

The new artery also will improve access for much of Granite City to Illinois Highway Three, which skirts the western portion of the Quad-City area and connects with the McKinley Bridge and points in Missouri. Immediately following Friday's dedication, a reception marking the occasion will be held at Moose Lodge 272, located at 19th and Adams streets.

THEFT AT YMCA
Claudia Schwendeman, 2506 Edison Ave., and Kim Werner, 2608 Washington Ave., reported money had been taken from their purses while they were playing racquetball at the YMCA Saturday at 2:30 p.m. Their purses were in unlocked lockers on the third floor women's locker room. According to the report, $110 was taken from Miss Schwendeman and $80 from the purse of Miss Werner.

The Old Soft Shoe

CALIFORNIA, Pa.—Marty Luko, 23, wanted to win the $1,000 first prize scholarship for poster design for the 1980 L'eggs Mini Marathon. The graduate student at Pratt Institute in Brooklyn, N.Y., took a chance with a daring design that he thought would place him last or first.

His poster showed a woman garbed in an 18th century gown, sitting in Central Park. On one foot, sticking out beneath her long gown, was a colorful red and blue running shoe.

The artist said the woman from years past showed the spirited type of woman today who is ready to run in the park. Luko won the contest, saying he spent the award in advance for his tuition. He will graduate in 1981 and "go to work for an advertising agency," he said.

How Nautilus Works

NAUTILUS is the only existing source of "total" exercise. The Nautilus "Total Exercise" Theory uses perfectly designed equipment to meet the particular needs of each muscle. There is absolutely nothing random about the design of a Nautilus machine... "function dictates design," and the functions demanded by a perfect form of exercise created the Nautilus machines.
